Q.12 As you may know, some elected officials have proposed taking federal lands in Arizona -- such as national forests, monuments, and national wildlife refuges -- and putting them under the control of the Arizona state government. This transfer of land would mean that Arizona would manage these lands, make all decisions about their use and future, and Arizona taxpayers would pay all associated costs including maintenance and preventing and fighting wildfires. Q.17 Next I am going to read you a pair of statements about some of the problems associated with the state of Arizona's criminal justice system and I want you to tell me which problems associated with our criminal justice system are a bigger concern to you.

(TOO COSTLY) SOME/OTHER people say Arizona's high incarceration rate removes thousands of people from the economy and costs taxpayers more than one billion dollars each year -- preventing the state from investing in other critical priorities like education and health care, without making us any safer.

(SYSTEM UNFAIR) SOME/OTHER people say that our criminal justice system is unfair and unjust, gives judges little to no discretion in determining prison sentences, and is tilted against working people and the poor as Latinos and African Americans are arrested at much higher rates and are likely to get more jail time than white people who commit the same crimes.

Okay, which of those problems associated with the state of Arizona's criminal justice system is a bigger concern to you?

Survey Methodology

TargetSmart designed and administered this online survey conducted by professional interviewers. The survey reached 650 adults, age 18 or older, who are registered to vote in Arizona. The survey was conducted from December 29, 2018 to January 3, 2019. The sample was randomly selected from TargetSmart's enhanced voter file. Forty percent of respondents were reached on wireless phones (49 percent weighted). Quotas were assigned to reflect the demographic distribution of registered voters in Arizona. The data were weighted by gender, age, region, race on file, party registration on file, county, and TargetSmart High School Only Score to ensure an accurate reflection of the population. The overall margin of error is +/- 3.8%. The margin of error for subgroups is larger and varies. Percentage totals may not add up precisely due to rounding.
