

What Should I Post?

Building a Social Media Strategy

Sy Klipsch-Abudu
Digital Director
sy@stateinnovation.org

Why have a strategy?

Why have a strategy?

To avoid overwhelm

- To get the right kind of engagement
- To ensure you're not leaving something important out
- To have a reference when you don't know what to post

What a strategy should not be

- What should my social media profile convey at first glance?
- Who is my audience? What content can I uniquely offer them?
- What parts of my personal life am I comfortable sharing?*

- What information can I provide that my audience may not be seeing elsewhere?
- What issue areas should be reflected on my account?
- Where is my voice needed?
 When should I elevate someone else's voice?

 What should my social media profile convey at first glance?

- What should my social media profile convey at first glance?
 - Character
 - ■ Explain-Curate-Reveal-Opine- Engage
 - Visuals
 - Tone
 - Alignment

- What should my social media profile convey at first glance?
- Who is my audience? What content can I uniquely offer them?
- What parts of my personal life am I comfortable sharing?*

- What information can I provide that my audience may not be seeing elsewhere?
- What issue areas should be reflected on my account?
- Where is my voice needed?
 When should I elevate someone else's voice?

Turning Your Strategy into Posts

 Decide where to organize and plan content

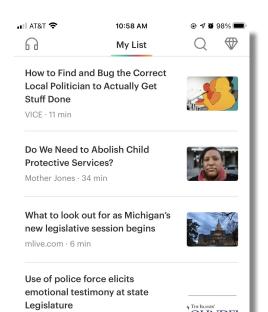

Decide where to organize and plan content

 Use Twitter lists, and other tools to curate

Set reminders!

 Decide where to organize and plan content

 Use Twitter lists and other tools to curate

Set reminders!

Audit your own feed

CHEATSHEET: What to Post

What to post when you have some time...

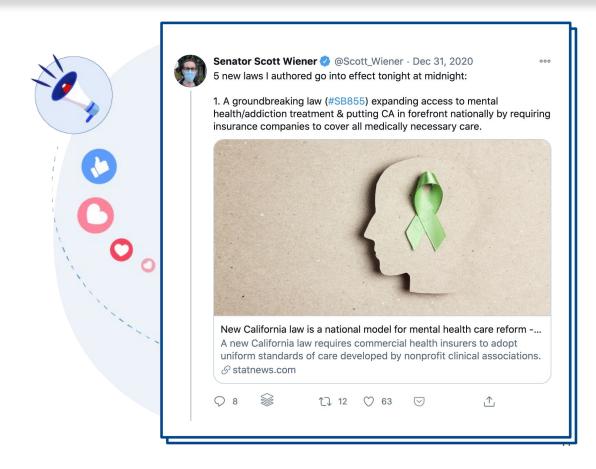

- Write a thread
- Compare and contrast
- Cite a statistic
- "On This Day"
- Tell a constituent story
- Take a photo
- Ask a question

Write a thread

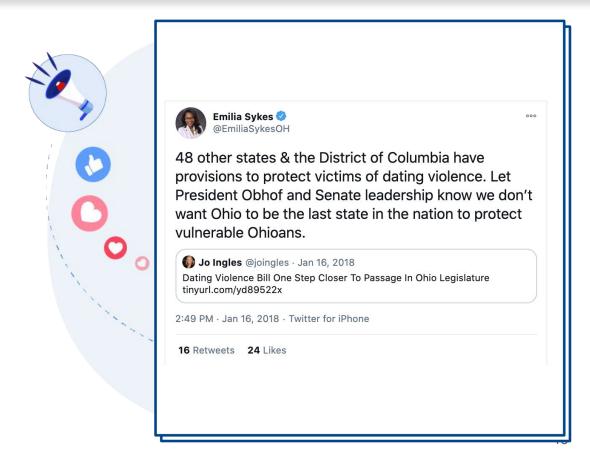

- Use simple language
- Add context
- Link to additional resources when possible

Compare and contrast

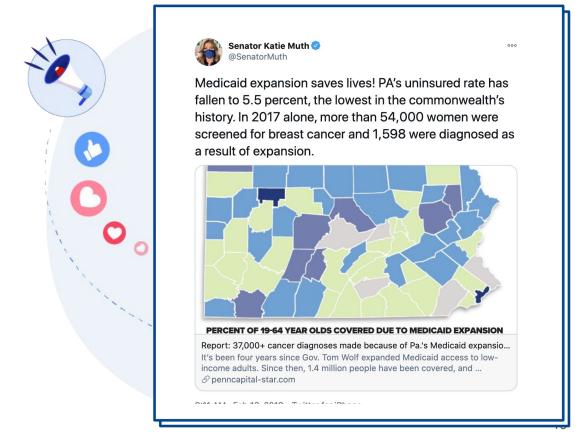

- Connect legislation to national trends
- Link to additional resources when possible

Cite a statistic

- Seek out statistics
- Screenshot when necessary
- Cite source

"On this day"

- Reflect on a personal memory or societal holiday
- Use resources like OnthisDay.com
- Use Twitter
 advanced search to look at your own
 past tweets

Tell a constituent story

- Get permission and/or anonymize
- Model how constituents should communicate with you

Just had a socially distant conversation w/constituent who is a returning citizens that STILL doesn't have his rights restored bcuz he owes $2000 in fees.

Amendment 4 should have helped him but GOP got in his way.

Connected him to @FLRightsRestore — let's get his rights back

9:06 AM · Aug 22, 2020 from Fairview Shores, FL · Twitter for iPhone

-

Take a photo

- Think outside the box
- Try to look at your surroundings with "new eyes"

My son took this picture as I virtually passed a $55 million dollar COVID relief bill to help small businesses. He called it laundry room democracy. #coleg

9 Comments 6 Shares

Ask a question

But be ready for responses!

What to post when you don't have time...

- Repost a tweet
- Quote an article
- Respond to someone else's post
- Share a hobby

Questions?

Sy Klipsch-Abudu

Digital Director

sy@stateinnovation.org